VOL. VI. NO. 170. FRESNO, CALIFORNIA, SATURDAY, APRIL 22, 1893 PRICE—5 CENTS

A WORLD'S FAIR RATE

From The Pacific Coast to Chicago.

A HUNDRED FOR THE ROUND TRIP

Opportunity to See the Greatest Show on Earth for a Small Sum.

San Francisco, April 21.—The World's Fair passenger rate from this city to Chicago is to be $100 for the round trip, the roads west of the Missouri river charging $80, and the lines east of the river $20. Single trip rate will be $60. It was first announced that only the Northern Pacific, Southern Pacific, Union Pacific and Santa Fe had agreed to these figures, but it was subsequently stated that all the roads would put the new rate into effect May 1st. All local agents of the various overland roads received telegrams on the subject late this afternoon, signed by T. H. Goodman of the Southern Pacific, W. F. White of the Atchison, E. L. Lomax of the Denver & Rio Grande, and J. H. Bennett of the Rio Grande Western.

BOREAN BLASTS

Making Life Uncomfortable for Tropical People.

Chicago, April 21.—The storm which has been raging for three days still continues at a late hour tonight.

Sleet is falling fast and the wind blowing nearly a forty-mile gale and is one of the most severe and long continued storms known here since the weather bureau has been established. The weather man has hopes that it will pass over tomorrow, but it certainly doesn't look much like it tonight.

The World's Fair buildings stood the storm well, no damage having been done to any of them, with the exception of breaking some pains of glass and overturning statutes in the midway plaisanes where the Egyptian, Javenese, Japanese, Turkish and other villages are erected. The damage was more serious to some frail buildings which were used quite severely. The most serious feature of the storm, however, has been the effect of the December weather now prevailing upon the people from tropical climates living in these villages.

Javanese, Egyptians and others with their light clothes are an inadequate protection from the icy blasts, and in their lightly constructed houses have suffered greatly. Several of them are ill and there are two or three cases of pneumonia among them.

Will Superintend It.

Annapolis, April 21.—Secretary Herbert and party arrived at 2 o'clock from Washington. At 3 o'clock they embarked on the Dolphin for Fortress Monroe. The secretary was received with a salute befitting his station, and his flag floated at the masthead. The Dolphin started out at 5.30, and in ten minutes was aground on the flats. After two hours a tug succeed in hauling off the Dolphin, and she proceeded down the bay.

Baseball.

Stockton—San Francisco 2, Stockton 1.

Poisoned a Baby.

San Francisco, April 21.—Mrs. Belinda Sapheme, a midwife, was arrested on a charge of murder. She is accused of poisoning a 2-two-year-old babe entrusted to her care by its mother, Mrs. Williams. Three grains of morphine were found in the infant's stomach when the coroner held an inquest.

Trip Postponed.

Washington, April 21.—Owing to the inability of all the members of the subcommittee to get away by May 5th, the chairman of the committee has postponed the trip to the Pacific coast for the purpose of investigating the subject of a deep water harbor, until the first week in July.

After a Record.

New York, April 21.—Tom Roe, the well known bicyclist, will start on a ride from New York to San Francisco. He expects to make the trip in sixty days. The best record is eighty-six days.

Do Not Want Him.

Vienna, April 21.—Count Kalnoki, Austrian Premier, has given notice to the American minister that the Austrian government will not grant an exequatur to Max Judd of St. Louis, appointed by President Cleveland as consul general of the United States at Vienna. Count Kalnoki states that the reason of refusing the exequatur is because Judd is an Austrian by his former allegiance and engaged in the immigration business.

A Smooth Trick.

Chicago, April 21.—The millionaire, Lamb, whose mysterious disappearance has been chronicled, is now alleged to be a confidence man and, it is said, Lawyer Newman mourns the loss of $28,000, out of which he was buncoed by Lamb with the familiar method of turning over to the astute lawyer a valise supposed to contain $28,000, but upon investigation proved to have nothing inside but brown paper. The police are making strenuous efforts to locate Lamb, but so far without success.

The Curtain Dropping.

New York, April 21.—The condition of Edwin Booth changed for the worse, and late tonight it was feared the crisis had been reached and the patient declared to be in the greatest danger. Dr. Smith admitted the actor's condition to be very grave and the end as not being very far off.

A Clever Sack.

Ottowa, April 21.—A dispatch was received at the government house this afternoon announcing that Earl Derby, brother of Lord Stanley, governor general of Canada, died today. Lord Stanley succeeds to the title and estates worth nearly $1,000,000 a year.

Caught in a Mine.

Butte, April 21.—In a fire in one of the shafts of the Butte and Boston Company this morning nine miners were cut off from escape and all the others were burned and suffocated.

O'Donnell Dead.

Denver, April 21.—Richard O'Donnell, once private secretary to Boss Tweed of New York, died here last night of consumption.

HERMANN'S SONS

Give a Public Installation and a Social.

The public installation of the recently elected officers of Fresno lodge No. 18, Hermann's Sons, which was held at the Masonic Temple Thursday evening, was largely attended. The exercises were very interesting, being conducted under the supervision of Grand Master F. Hensel of San Francisco. Following are the officers who were installed:

President, Phil Schmitz; vice president, G. Goennheimer; secretary, Henry Johannsen; treasurer, Paul Meyer; past president, Paul Beuchel.

An excellent program of music and recitations was given. It began with an overture played by an orchestra conducted by Professor Reitz. The singing section of the society then sang "Schaefer's Sonntagslied" in excellent style. A speech by Past President Beuchel came next.

E. Young sang a bass solo with fine effect. Another song was then sung by the singing section. Paul Sabati, without whom an entertainment would be incomplete, recited several selections and created plenty of amusement.

Grand President Hensel addressed the lodge, making a very interesting speech. He spoke of the prosperity of the order, the good it was accomplishing and the future in store for it. At the conclusion of the program dancing and feasting were indulged in.

FOR CHARITY.

Gilbert & Sullivan's "Patience" to Be Repeated.

The second performance of "Patience," which will be given at the Barton opera house on Monday evening, May 1st, by the talented Fresno amateurs for the benefit of the Associated Charities, promises to be a more satisfactory and brilliant affair than the first. Having passed through the trying ordeal of a first night stage fright, they are prepared to give a far greater surprise to their hearers than on their first trial.

There is already quite a demand for seats, but none will be sold or laid aside until the day of sale, which is Tuesday morning next. There is also such a demand for boxes and loges by society people that there is a likelihood that they will be sold by auction some evening next week. If such should be the case, and the object of the entertainment such a worthy one, there is likely to be some lively bidding, as many are disposed to be very liberal in their views and means so far as the Associated Charities are concerned.

Endeavorers Marry.

At the residence of Rev. S. S. Patterson last evening, James A. Tyler of San Jose and Miss Minnie E. Snyder of Selma, who are attending the Christian Endeavor convention, were united in marriage. Rev. S. S. Patterson performed the ceremony.

Attorney W. D. Grady did not carry out his intention of serving out the $25 fine imposed upon him by Judge Harris. He only remained in jail a few hours Thursday night, and then came down town and slept the sleep of the just in his luxurious apartments at the hotel.

A CONVICT SHOT

WHILE ENDEAVORING TO ESCAPE.

The Fate of an Unnatural Brute Who Had Been Imprisoned for Rape.

Sacramento, April 21.—A telephone message to the Bee from Folsom, this afternoon, said that about 3 o'clock a convict named Jose Garcia made a break for liberty from the state prison.

He plunged into the American river and started to swim to the opposite shore.

Before he had proceeded far, however, three or four of the guards began firing at him with their rifles. Garcia was shot and killed.

The prisoner had only been at Folsom prison a week. He had been sent up from Los Angeles to serve eight years for an attempt to commit rape.

Garcia was a desperate man, and has given the officials much trouble ever since his arrest. While in prison at Los Angeles he made a vicious assault upon the jailer. At another time he made his escape from the prison there by scaling a wall, but fell on the opposite and broke a leg, and was easily captured.

This afternoon Garcia was employed on a canal just blow the prison, and took occasion to step down to the edge of the river. A few moments afterward he was seen to plunge into the rushing stream and disappear beneath the water. When he came to the surface he was well out in the stream and swimming rapidly for the opposite bank.

A dozen rifles were turned on him and the guard nearest to him turned his Winchester loose, apparently with good effect, for Garcia immediately dropped beneath the water again, and when next seen was a considerable distance below and not making as rapid progress toward the bank as before. Then the other guards took shots at him as he drifted down with the rapid current toward the rocky narrows. They were evidently effective, for presently he sank again and was seen no more.

Paid for Her Injuries.

Tacoma, April 21.—Edna Mitchell, an 11-year-old girl, was given a verdict of $12,000 in the superior court tonight against the Tacoma Railway and Motor Company. A year ago the girl was run into by a cable car and permanently injured.

Extradition Signed.

Washington, April 21.—A cable message to the state department says the Emperor of Russia has signed the extradition treaty between the United States and Russia.

THE CANAL PROJECT

Hanford People Take the Initiative.

ELKHORN TO WHITE'S BRIDGE

Contracts for a Tow Steamer and Barges Ready to Be Awarded.

The agitation over cheaper freight rates and the talk of the Traffic Association regarding a competing line down the east side of the San Joaquin has stirred up the people of Hanford and the adjacent territory to make an effort for cheaper transportation in an entirely different direction, says the San Francisco Examiner. They are moving for water competition, and have already perfected arrangements for getting their grain out this year by way of the San Joaquin river. Walter Turnbull has been at work interesting the people of the river towns in the scheme, has stirred up Fresno and will go before the Traffic Association to ask for moral backing and the support of the association's influence.

There is a town called Elkhorn, near Summit lake—a lake not far north of Tulare lake. From Elkhorn it is possible to float barges and small steamers to White's Bridge. Larger steamers can run to White's Bridge several months in the year, running up a slough from the San Joaquin.

The contracts for a small tow steamer and five small barges are ready to be awarded, and the vessels are to be finished in time to move this year's crop. From the country about Hanford the haul to Elkhorn is only about fifteen to eighteen miles. Estimates show that from Elkhorn to White's Bridge the grain can be carried for 50 cents per ton. From White's Bridge to Port Costa the charge need not be over half the present railroad freight charges. Arrangements are being made with ex-Senator Corcoran of Stockton to use his steamers to tow the grain from White's Bridge to Port Costa.

The communication between Elkhorn and White's will be through Steamboat and Fish sloughs. The tow boat and barges used there will necessarily be small, not drawing over two feet of water, and there will perforce be a rehandling at White's.

But one great object of the enterprise is to demonstrate that there is open navigation as far as Elkhorn. Then the federal government can be called upon to appropriate money to improve the waterway, and do away with all necessity of transhipment of freight. General Turnbull says the people of Visalia, Hanford and the surrounding country are very much in earnest in the project, and have the money necessary to back it. They say that with an open waterway they can ship their alfalfa, grain and other produce to San Francisco at a profit—something they cannot now do.

Fresno also has been interested in the project. Some time ago the people of that city asked C. P. Huntington for terminal rates. He lightly told them he would do so as soon as they had water competition. Now, they propose to take him at his word and build a canal to Fish slough, about thirty miles away, thence opening the way to the San Joaquin.

Back of all this is a still greater scheme, the opening of water communication with Bakersfield. Once communication is established with Elkhorn it is proposed to build a canal from that point through the tules along the east side of Tulare lake, thence along Buena Vista slough to Goose lake, and thence up Goose lake slough to Bakersfield. Offers have been made to build the canal for a donation of the tule lands reclaimed by it. From this it is estimated that a fair waterway, open for navigation between San Francisco and Bakersfield during several months of every year, can be constructed for not much over $250,000. After that the federal government would be relied upon to make the necessary enlargements and improvements.

In any event, General Turnbull says, the people of Hanford will ship their grain by water this year, and if the Traffic Association will lend a hand the other projects will be carried out in a very short time. The people who put through the Kings county division bill are behind these enterprises, and Corcoran, the Stockton steamboat man, is encouraging them with offers of assistance.

LABORERS' UNION.

The Free Employment Bureau Doing Good.

The Laborers' Union met last night in the office of the free employment bureau. There was a large attendance.

The report from the manager of the free employment bureau shows that substantial benefits are being derived from it. During the past week eighteen men and sixteen women were provided with employment. The matter of securing larger quarters and starting a restaurant, at which substantial meals will be furnished to workingmen at reasonable prices was discussed. A committee was appointed to investigate the matter and to report at the next meeting.

Several new applications for membership were received.

JOHN VICTOR DEAD.

A Young Man Well Liked and Esteemed.

John M. Victor died yesterday afternoon at the county hospital of peritonitis after a week's illness. His age was 20 years.

For the past few years Victor was employed in the saddlery of Charles Schweitzer on I street. He was a very industrious and moral young man and was generally liked on account of his amiability and obliging disposition.

Victor was a member of the old fire department and also of the National Guard, both of which organizations will turn out at the funeral. The father of the deceased is down from Sonora to supervise the last sad rites over his son.

It is a clear waste of time to argue with a chronic liar.

The visiting Endeavorers express themselves as delighted with Fresno. Fresno is likewise highly pleased with her visitors. This is reciprocity.

Unfermented grape juice is becoming a popular beverage at Hanford, where it is made from the muscat grape. It is a healthful drink, and has a very pleasant flavor.

Notwithstanding prohibition, the amount of red liquor mysteriously absorbed in Iowa is not insignificant. In Des Moines alone the consumption of intoxicants reaches $1,200,000 worth, while in the state it probably amounts to $20,000,000 annually.

The next time Evans and Sontag make a visit to their home in Visalia they should furnish the sheriff and posse with a diagram of the route which they will take on their return trip. Their recent remarkable action in selecting a road as a driveway instead of a ditch, along the banks of which the officers were located, is very disappointing. Chris and John have already given the officers a great deal of trouble by their erratic conduct, and they really owe it to the people whose time and feelings they have been trifling with to furnish them with a program for future performances of this sort.

There is evidently a whole lot of moonshine in the sensational stuff now being printed in regard to the intentions of Evans and Sontag, both as regards the past and the future. They are undeniably showing a considerable amount of daring in visiting their home at Visalia, for there is always danger of accident when firearms are being recklessly discharged, even at long range and at random, but that they contemplate further raids for the purpose of robbery or revenge is extremely improbable. The people of Visalia and the treasure of Wells, Fargo & Company are probably safe, so far as they are concerned, and the officers are not likely to get hurt unless they become incautious in their interference with the occasional visits of the bandits to the valley for ordinary purposes of business and social relaxation. Sampson Flats is a quiet neighborhood and the train robbers naturally desire a change once in a while from the monotony of enforced residence there.

The contemptible conduct of the Fresno Expositor is again illustrated in its attempt to make the public believe that it is proposed to continue the fire department as a political machine, merely changing its complexion from Democratic to Republican. In its issue of last evening it says: "That was the department in which our amiable contemporary demanded instant and unconditional decapitation." What this paper demanded—a demand which the Expositor has made many times and which it would now indorse if there were a spark of honesty anywhere in its composition—is that the fire department be at the earliest possible time put back in the condition it was before the Triangle turned it into a political machine, viz: that the department be allowed the privilege of selecting the chief and others in charge of the affairs of the department. This we understand will be the action and the only action of the Trustees in regard to the fire department. At any rate that is the issue for which The Republican has been contending for more than a year past, and for which it shall continue to stand under any and all circumstances. The rank and file of the fire department give their time and risk their lives without compensation for the public good, and this paper believes that they earn every right to which they claim they are entitled.

One of the leading organs of the administration in New York announces that Mr. Cleveland and his associates have changed their plans in regard to the framing of the new tariff. It is stated that the policy of preparing the bill in the treasury department and presenting it complete to the house has been abandoned in deference to the opposition expressed within the Democratic ranks to this autocratic method of procedure. Prominent Democrats in the senate and the house are to be asked to assist in framing the measure. The organ in question declares, however, that "the President and the secretary of the treasury will be consulted regarding every schedule." It is apparently the plan at present to retain the administration stamp on the new tariff, while giving the free trade leaders in both branches of congress an opportunity to take part in its preparation. By this scheme the President probably hopes to soothe the pride of the southern majority and thus secure the prompt passage of the bill. This plan marks the signal discomfiture of the Mugwumps, who have been loudly boasting of their intention to force the Democratic party to enact an administration tariff constructed according to Mugwump theories. But it does not lessen the danger to American industries. The elements which will hold the whip hand in each house of congress are equal to the Mugwumps in their demands for free trade. In spite of free trade antagonism southern industries had begun to develop largely under the McKinley law. Four years more of protection would have produced a degree of industrial prosperity which might have created a powerful sentiment in favor of a protective tariff in the south. The election of Cleveland and the return to power of the free trade element came just in time to check the progress that had only fairly commenced, and to rivet the bonds of race and cast prejudice more firmly on the section that furnishes two-thirds of Democracy's electoral votes. The forthcoming free trade measure, if it is framed as it undoubtedly will be, in obedience to overwhelming Democratic sentiment, will echo the tariff plank of the Chicago platform in its declaration of war upon the protective system.

MOSSBACKISM.

The Most Blighting Disease to Any City.

Editor Republican—There is a certain amount of mossbackism in every community, and the smaller the place, the larger per cent there is of it. Our town has always had this pestilence to contend with, and when we think we have been about cleansed of this ill, lo! it appears in another place and needs still more skill to eradicate it.

But we have so far enjoyed splendid financial and material health, despite the occasional eczema of mossbackism. These people that are branded "M. B.'s" are well meaning sort of folks. As a rule, they are men and women who have succeeded in life on a middle scale—neither very small potatoes, nor large, double-jointed ones. They have bank accounts, and are very respectful, for the most part, but they lack the ability that must form a component part in the make-up of a good citizen; that is, public spirit; they have no town pride nor local patriotism, and are perfectly content to let the mildew gather on their silver and gold eagles in the dark recesses of some vault.

They look askance at every proposed improvement, and stand on the street corners exclaiming with uplifted voices and hands: "No more taxes! Surely our burdens are greater than we can bear!"

These people only see their own side of the case. They fail to see that the order of things is such that when we help others we help ourselves; that when we build up our town we build up likewise our own individual interests.

Ask one of them if he believes in modern improvements, and he will answer: "Why, yes," with a nasal twang that echoes Yankeedom, "certainly I believe in 'em, but this harum scarum way of making debts I am opposed to, and if they don't quit I'll just retire." The old holdfast puts on a look a la owl, and says, "These newfangled schemes I steer clear of; my money is worth 12 per cent in real estate worth two for one."

These old fossils and relics of ancient history should be relegated to a back seat in the car of progress as they oppose all improvements, and are a drawback and a detriment to civilization.

Valuable Reports Filed by the Officers.

PLACER WINS THE BANNER

And Alameda Gains a Victory for the Juniors — Spring Bonnets.

The auditorium of the Adventist church resembled a flower garden yesterday. Fresno hospitality had supplied floral decorations with a hand that was as lavish as the heart was generous. The gallery rail and the pulpit platform were decorated with leaves of the fan palm, bridal wreath, poppies, calla lilies and roses, while the spring bonnets and summer hats of the young ladies resembled a collection of flowers that grow in the spring, tra la, and tarara boom-de-ay, with the boom on the side of the Lord.

Interspersed with flowers and evergreens, were the beautiful silken banners of the societies. These were in orange, purple, violet, white and blue, richly embroidered and trimmed with gold. The state banner, a rich golden design, was completely covered with silk badges.

The warm air hummed with conversation before the convention was called to order, and there was considerable preliminary work to be done, much running to and fro and consultation. Rev. J. H. Collins was one of the most active workers, and he seemed to have worked himself bald yesterday.

SAN JOSE WANTS THE CONVENTION.

San Jose, not content with having bagged the state capital, wants the state convention next year. The following telegrams were received by the president yesterday;

"W. G. Alexander, President Christian Endeavor Convention.—Get convention for San Jose next. Mayor will send invitation this afternoon, and probably board of trade.

"R. SYMONS."

"The San Jose Chamber of Commerce send greeting, and cordially invite and urge your society to hold their next annual gathering in this city.

"R. O. SHIVELY,
"G. F. NEVINS,
"HENRY FRESEN,
"Committee."

Miss A. M. Sullivan of Santa Cruz led a very interesting devotional meeting from 9 to 9.15 a.m., at which time she called for the reports of the officers of the state unions.

THE PRESIDENTS' REPORT.

William G. Alexander, the President, submitted his report. He gives excellent advice to local unions.

A local union must do work. Its main purpose should be to help weaker societies, organize new and push the work of Christ in general. It should have notices of the meetings of the different societies posted in hotels, railroad depots and other similar places. It should spread Christian literature, put the Golden Rule and other papers in barber shops and other places where they may do good; and all such kindred work.

Strong county unions are essential. I trust by next year every county in the state will be organized. They are to the state union what strong counties are to the state government. They afford at once a working force, a means of communication and a center for the distribution of information.

But in all our organization do not let us forget that it is in our local society that we should do the most work. There should be the scene of our most earnest endeavor.

The great object of the Christian Endeavor movement is to make us more useful in the service of God. Christian Endeavor stands for loyalty to our local church. Let us strive to build up Christ's kingdom by bringing new members into our home society and our own church.

We have appointed Hotel Endeavor as an official headquarters at Chicago and have secured June 28th to July 1st as California week. We expect to arrange for some noted speakers at our reunion there and believe a good time is in store for us.

I would suggest that a press committee be appointed, not only by the state convention but by the local and county unions, who shall report items of interest to the local papers and prepare good reports of all our conventions, and I trust that the secretaries of the different denominations will use their denominational papers as much as possible.

The president warmly indorses the Pacific Endeavorer and recommends every Endeavorer in California to take the Golden Rule.

I have sent out over 650 letters and 800 circulars and pieces of printed matter.

One source of power was in our prayer days. We appointed the eighth of each month to pray for each other.

He expressed his appreciation for the assistance, hearty co-operation and ready response to any call for work of the entire executive committee, and especially to Brothers Merriam and Shaw. To them is due much of the success of the past year. To Miss Nason and Miss Doyle, our junior workers. They have made a record that will be long remembered. To our dear Turner in the south and Bernard in the north, for the masterly way in which they arranged for and conducted the excursion to our convention. To our dear brothers, Collins, Martin and Hammond and their host of helpers, who have made all arrangements so complete and our reception so cordial.

I cannot mention the names of all those who have rendered valuable service, but I thank you all for your hearty co-operation; you have made the work a delight, the hours of service a pleasure.

TREASURER'S REPORT.

State treasurer's report for term ending April 21, 1893:

Total receipts....................$1132 55
Total disbursements.............1109 50

Cash balance.....................$ 23 05

Pledges unpaid with our cash balance will about balance bills unpaid, thus closing our term's work even. The coming term will require at least $1500 to cover expenses, as we enter deeper into the '95 international convention work. Our work is a glorious one.

C. B. SHAW,
State Treasurer.

STATE SECRETARY'S REPORT.

State Secretary W. S. Merriam in making the sixth annual report expresses regret on being obliged to report a loss of a few societies from the Interdenominational Christian Fellowship, for having become Epworth Leagues, and six Baptist Unions.

Also, we have lost fourteen small societies; cause, unnatural death, and judging from a few reports which have been received several will need a little spiritual dynamite before long to give them a new lease of life, but most of our societies are doing excellent work.

The present total enrollment is 653 societies, with a membership of 30,859, giving us an increase for the year of 204 societies and 11,419 members or 58¾ per cent increase. Senior societies 512, membership 26,794. Junior societies 141, membership 4065. These societies are distributed among twelve denominations, the first on the list being:

Our state is subdivided for more systematic work into 3 districts, 15 counties, 15 city unions. The southern district is composed of 174 societies, with a membership of 6364. Out of the 56 counties in our state we have but 25 counties organized, including those in the districts.

You will be interested to know that there are 1337 subscribers to the Golden Rule reported; 64 societies have adopted a plan of systematic beneficence, and 24 socities have a plan of Bible study.

Societies doing special work—such work as the following: Organized a branch society, hospital work, supporting mission sabbath school, $250; for church kindergarten, furnishing church parlors, work among Indians, held meetings in country last summer, visiting from house to house, leading souls to Christ. In addition the above there are 40 societies doing special missionary work.

The report deprecates the frequent changes made in the personnel of the corresponding secretaries.

The report of the Santa Rosa convention contains 120 pages, costing $440.70, less $251 for advertisements, leaving a balance of $189.70. There was not enough money received from societies in response to the circular sent to cover expressage and postage, and some arrangement should be made to have the report of the present convention out in thirty days.

Four state executive committee meetings have been held during the year. The secretary was directed to request each county to appoint a superintendent for junior work to co-operate with Miss Belle Nason, state superintendent. Presidents of strictly Christian Endeavor Unions shall belong to and have a vote in the state executive committee. It was decided to give the new state badge banner as a trophy at the next state convention.

At the fourth meeting held in Oakland, January 11, 1893, the president was directed to appoint a committee of representative men, and that the committee of 1895 be on that committee to meet in San Francisco for the purpose of reorganizing and enlarging the committee. The beautiful banner covered with senior badges, which ex-President Hayes took with him to the international convention at New York, is to be presented to the county showing the largest per cent of increase during the year.

Placer county, with 311 per cent, takes the banner for this year.

It is to be hoped that Alameda county will keep humble, as with 1570 per cent she captures the junior banner.

Following is the membership and per cent of increase in counties reported;

For Christ and the church have we labored. The vital part of our work and our aim is to bring souls to Christ. During the years 1890-91, 598 united with the church; 1891-92, 823 united with the church; 1892-93, 1441 united with the church.

REPORT OF JUNIOR STATE WORK.

Belle P. Nelson made a very interesting report on junior state work. She called attention to the fact that the work had been greatly retarded on account of the absence of a state organ. These difficulties can be surmounted by making the Pacific Endeavorer the state official paper, where all notices of conventions may be made in advance by the county and district officers, thus affording an easy and successful means of communication. The work has been organized in twenty-two counties of California. In the state executive committee meeting in San Diego a junior banner was decided upon to be presented with the senior banner at our state convention and both to be sent to the international convention.

A circular letter on junior work was sent to every senior society emphasizing the importance and work of the junior committee and organizations of junior city unions and to endeavor to effect a junior organization in every church in our state. Also that California give a strong support to the Golden Rule. The majority of societies have now appointed this year junior committees and great harvests are to be reaped. The work seems but fairly begun. I could find only 28 junior Christian Endeavor Societies when this state year commenced. The other societies had disbanded or became a denominational society.

We have up to the present date 141 societies with the member ship of 4065 and 820 junior church members, a gain of 2931 and 117 societies.

San Francisco has 21 societies, 15 organized since last May, a junior city union soon to be organized and a county superintendent greatly needed. Miss Semler as the junior chairman has been an earnest worker in the cause of the juniors. Santa Cruz county has the oldest junior Christian Endeavor Society in the state in the Presbyterian church in Watsonville. Miss Hartley was made its county superintendent.

Santa Clara's ten junior societies have all but two been organized since last May. San Jose has a junior city union of six societies, Mrs. E. H. Baker its superintendent. Orange county has organized its eight societies since the last state convention. A junior city union has been organized at Santa Ana. San Diego county organized the first junior city union and has the largest junior society in the Congregational church in San Diego with a membership of 117 juniors. County superintendent, Miss Lang.

Fresno county has recently organized its 3 societies, and Mrs. Collins made county superintendent.

Alameda county has 26 societies, junior county union; Miss Doyle made the first county superintendent.

Los Angeles has 23 societies, 17 organized this year, 653 juniors—only 87 of these association members and 230 junior church members. There is a junior city union in Los Angeles. Miss Curry, the county superintendent, a most helpful and consecrated officer. Miss Dahl has been made recently district superintendent, thus giving seven assistants to state superintendent.

There are at present only four organizations of junior Christian Endeavor in missions, but there are now those in San Francisco and Los Angeles, endeavoring to locate the missions and to send leaders, address to me. This mission work is a grand field for Christian Endeavor work, but we need reapers from among the seniors. The oft repeated reply to my letters causes deep regret. We have no senior who is willing to take up the junior work in our church. This difficulty confronts the progress of junior work. The juniors are always ready to enter it.

Live Oak, Gilroy and others will organize too late for this report, each mail bringing such encouraging reports. One hundred postal cards and 834 letters have been sent by me in the interests of junior work, also junior literature sent throughout the state whenever needed. The work had to be accomplished to a great extent by correspondence. By request I attended a junior rally held during the Friends' conference. Almost all churches in that denomination have organized junior C.E. societies, and are among the warmest supporters of junior work.

California is far in advance of most other states in the work.

Afternoon Session.

The session began with the discussion of the topic, "How Can We Win Souls for Christ?" conducted by E. B. Hayes of San Anselmo.

Christian Endeavorers: How can we win souls for Christ? That is the grand work of our society of Christian Endeavor. It is the mission of the church. It was the mission of our Savior when he was on earth to win men. And we are to be like him, we are to do his work. In order to do this we must first study ourselves; second, study the men and women that we are to deal with; third, study how to reach them. We need tact in Christian work. We do not speak at the right time, and yet we have the precious promise of God that He will give us the tongue of the learned. And we have other promises and we have beautiful examples.

The discussion that followed was participated in by a large number.

At 3 o'clock the convention resolved into committees for conference, holding their sessions in different churches. Returning at 4, each through its chairman reported its work.

Miss Jones of Anaheim, for the prayer meeting committee, said that the points that impressed her most were, the having a committee prayer meeting before the meeting of the society, in which they pray for the leader; going to the leader during the week and asking him in what special way they could help. Having selections ready for those who you know are willing to take part, but feel their inability to select for themselves. Selecting leaders with reference to the subject, but yet training the members by giving them the meeting to lead though others might have made more special study of that particular line of work.

Mr. Smither of Petaluma reported for the social committee. The first thought brought out in the committee was the importance of the social work in the Endeavor societies of California. In coming across the mountains a good many of us have had our piety and religious enthusiasm cooled, and one of the hardest things we have to do is to warm up a cold and frozen church member.

The temperance committee conference was reported by the chairman, W. G. McMillin of Sacramento.

The first subject taken up was how to conduct an interesting temperance meeting. Some one suggested that the best way to start such a meeting was to have a rousing prohibition speech the first thing, and get somebody mad, for not all the temperance people believe in prohibition. Another suggested that in their society the temperance meetings were given over to the Loyal Legion and the W.C.T.U. once a month.

The next subject taken up was the Demorest contests. These have been tried by many and have been found very successful. They are enjoyable, and interest many who are not interested in the temperance cause.

Men ought to vote as they pray, and if they would do this there are enough Christian people in the state of California today to cast all the saloons out of the state.

Rev. C. P. Poun of Petaluma reported for the lookout committee. Its duties are looking out and seeing, and bringing in.

IN INDIA AND JAPAN.

Rev. E. S. Williams, to arouse general enthusiasm in the meeting, gave some word pictures of his own personal experience in India and Japan.

Desiring for many years, he was at last permitted to visit the foreign fields. The collection boxes of the Japanese were marvels in size. The Methodist boxes would not compare with them in any respect, being 20 feet long, 12 feet wide and four feet deep.

Passing through the streets of the cities of India the numerous wooden gods, more hideous than any gracing the front of the tobacconist shop, are seen on every side. There is the love god and the young maidens pinning the love mission on the old love god. The mothers are fastening their prayers for their children on the god of maternity.

The older ones are exceedingly devout in their exercises. One old worshipper was seen to rub his own shoulder and then the shoulder of the god of health. The young were less devout and did not rub the old god very earnestly, and it seemed as if but little effort would win them to Christ.

Passing along through the lines of moving humanity, something attracted the attention of the traveler, something squirming on the ground, and oh, God, it was a woman, a young woman. Her feet and head were bare. She was clean when she left her home to perform the awful penance to the shrine of her god, but there, wallowing in the filth equal to any Chicago sewer, and flat on the ground, she was making her way to her ugly god, she who might have been an Earnest Endeavorer.

Equal to this was another awful sight. A young lad was making his way to the shrine of his God with a young kid in his arms, a beautiful creature. The other domestic animals of that far country of India are few, the kid being the principal playmate of children, and this boy was making his way as best he could with this creature to place it in the hands of the cruel, blood thirsty priest, who was seen to take the bleating animal, place its head on the block and with one blow strike off the head. As quickly as possible was the warm blood flowing from the still pulsing viens sprinkled on the hideous wooden God, and oh! the pushing and jostling of the crowd as they strove to secure the warm blood was a sight never desired to be witnessed again by the observer. Funds are not the only thing desired.

Send pictures, chromos, anything that may be collected by Christian Endeavors to cheer the dreary homes, if they can keep them, for they are often stolen by the priests; but send them, Endeavorers. There is more sunshine in the Endeavorer here than in all the countless millions of that far country. If enthusiasm is lacking in missionary work go and visit them, come back filled with missionary zeal to enthuse those at home, go to them, Endeavorer, strengthen them, pray for them that they may crown Jesus Christ, King of Kings and Lord of Lords.

Evening Session.

In the evening session Mr. Rader reported for the committee of '95 that the committee had been busy up to the present time and that they had sent out blizzards of stickers all over the world. Before John Wanamaker, one of the trustees of the united society, had time to have the dust brushed off his hat at the Palace hotel he had to read twenty-four letters from the committe of '95. He still lives and likes the climate of California. He likes San Francisco better than Los Angeles, perhaps.

The Christian Endeavorers of this state positively insist that this convention must come here in '95. Twenty-three states are in favor of having the convention in California.

As Father F. E. Clark bade good by to California, while leaving for his trip around the world, his last words were: "Hurrah for California in '95."

"Why do we want it? We want this convention for the same reason as we want a drink of water. California does not want the earth; we have enough earth here—some of us since coming to Fresno. This convention has never been held west of the Missouri river, and we believe we have a right to the advantages to be gained from this convention. It raises the price of real estate and annihilates yellow-legged chickens (he didn't believe that there were any chickens left in Minneapolis since the convention was held there in 1891). We want this convention because we want to exhibit ourselves; we want to exhibit our possibilities and we must have it. We want 75,000 or 100,000 Endeavorers, and we want to meet that convention with an undivided state. We want the calf to be dead. We want to go to Montreal in large force and bring back a message from that convention which says, 'California in '95.'"

THE EPWORTH LEAGUE.

Miss Abbott tendered the greeting of the San Francisco Epworth Leaguers. We are working for one purpose. We are not divided; we are all one body; one in hope and doctrine; one in charity, and we are pushing to the front to gain a great victory.

PRESENTING THE BANNERS.

Dr. Dille of San Francisco presented the junior banner to Alameda county, Mr. Rader receiving it on behalf of Alameda.

Dr. Dille said, in substance: "This banner has been nobly won. Some one said this morning that the woods are full of juniors, but I wish to say that there are no juniors in the woods of Alameda county; they have been all corralled. Alameda county has won this banner with a percentage of 1570 per cent net gain. Even this is not up to the Savior's idea of gain when he spoke of 30, 60 and 100 fold, for this is but 15 fold. We are going to take every banner from every state, from Hell Gate, where the convention of 1892 was held, to Golden Gate, where we trust that the convention of '95 will be held."

Mr. Rader responded as follows:

"This is a very unexpected honor to receive this beautiful banner. There is a history and a prophecy connected with this banner; a history of faithful endeavor and a prophecy of a successful future.

"The only way to get rid of Dr. Dille is to create him a bishop, so he cannot remain in one place. I trust this banner may go back to cheer juniors of that fair old country."

W. G. Alexander presented the senior banner and said:

"I remember last year, just after our convention, some of us thought our state should have a banner. So we rushed the matter through and secured the one that is before us tonight. This banner has been over most of the state. It has been seen at nearly all the county conventions, and was at the great meeting of the southern district in San Diego. It has been across the continent, it was conspicuous at the great convention in New York, it will be more prominent at Montreal, and when the great meeting is held in San Francisco in '95 every silken thread will be stretched by the breezes to make the welcome more complete.

"The banner has started upon a glorious career. It means something. It stands for over 600 societies with over 30,000 members. It stands for Christian Endeavor and Christian Endeavor principles. It stands for our state union as the stars and stripes stand for our federal union. And as we love those stars and stripes for what they represent, so may we learn to love the purple and gold for what they mean to us.

"As we love to see the grand old flag floating over every school house all over this broad land, united and forever, so may we love to have this our emblem stand for California—one and indivisible.

"Note the badges here. They represent the different members of our great family, your brothers and the work. You are to help them in the time of need, and remember them in your prayers.

"It was a happy thought of your executive committee to arrange to present this banner to the county showing the largest per cent. of increase in membership.

Our beloved secretary has informed me that your Placer county is entitled to hold it until our next annual convention. In behalf of this union that I am proud to represent, I present this banner to you. You have won it honorably. You have made a remarkable record. May the good work you have started bear much fruit for "Christ and the Church."

Remember, He has given a banner to them that fear him, that it may be displayed because of the truth.

May it be an ensign of victory, and carry a blessing wherever it goes.

Rev. H. F. Burgess, president of the Placer County Union, made the response. We deem it eminently fitting that this banner should be given to the gateway county, and I accept it on behalf of Placer as an honest effort to help the cause of Christ. We hope to prove ourselves worthy of our trust. It will not be locked up in any one building, but it will be used to further the interest of our cause. Our secretary said this morning that we want to be deep as well as broad, and we in Placer county will carry this work to the bed rock, Jesus Christ."

A SWEET SINGER.

Miss Susie Hurt of San Francisco sang "My Dream of Christ" with great expression.

Rev. J. H. Goodell of Oakland preached the sermon of the evening. His subject was "Problems of the Endeavor World." It was marked by sincerity, and was full of bright thoughts.

New Suits.

The Fresno Canal and Irrigation Company, by its attorney, George E. Church, brought two suits yesterday in the superior court. The defendants are L. L. Bettys et al. and J. D. Page, and the object of the suits is to restrain the defendants from taking water from the company's canal. Damages in the sum of $1000 is asked for from the first named defendants and $250 from the last.

Charles Coyle has brought an action against C. Hurley to foreclose a mortgage on the south half of the southwest quarter of the northwest quarter of section 30, township 13 south, range 19 east, given to secure a promissory note of $750.

Medical Fakes and Fakirs.

Perhaps the most senseless claim put forth by the fakirs who are striving to imitate the successful work of the Keeley institute in curing alcoholism and the opium disease, is that they use a vegetable poison, and not a mineral. In the first place the most deadly poisons known, both to civilized and barbarous people, are vegetable, while the substance most indispensable to human life—water—is a mineral. In the second place, the fakirs do not know what the Keeley physicians use. It is a secret known only to Dr. Keeley and his two chemists, who prepare the medicine at Dwight, Ill., from whence every drop used in the California institutes at Los Gatos and Riverside comes. It is astonishing that anyone suffering with a terrible disease should trust himself to the tender mercies of unscrupulous charlatans, whose dense ignorance is only equaled by their absurd pretensions, when a safe and sure cure is within easy reach. It may be safely said that no poison of any sort is used at the Keeley institute. One hundred thousand patients have been cured without the least injury in a single case.

JONES IN JAIL.

He Says James' Statement Is False.

HIS REASON FOR LEAVING FRESNO.

Denies All Knowledge of the Good Murder—His Trip to Texas.

Marion Childers returned from Texas on the noon train yesterday having in custody Thomas Jones, charged with the murder of W. R. Good at Tarpey station on the night of the sixth of last October.

The arrest of Jones is the result of a confession made by W. S. James while in jail awaiting his trial for petty larceny. James has a bad reputation and it is not likely that his confession would have led to Jones' arrest had not other important evidence been obtained in support of it.

Jones was visited at the jail yesterday by a REPUBLICAN reporter and asked if he desired to make any statement. He is a tall and slender man, about six feet in height, of light complexion, and between 30 and 35 years of age. He talks and looks like a typical Texan.

The accused man began by denying in toto the charges contained in James' confession. He said he knew nothing about the murder, had never known or seen Good, nor knew where the Goods lived.

"When in Oregon," said Jones, "I sent to Texas for some money, as I wanted to come home. I left Oregon for Red Bluff, where I worked on Cone & Kimball's ranch. While there I received $25 from Texas, which had been forwarded to me from Oregon.

"Of course, this was not enough money with which to pay my way, and I stopped in Fresno, with the intention of working and earning sufficient to take me home, instead of that, I not only failed to get steady employment, but spent all the money I had. I worked a while under Mr. Childers, on the Brooks place, and when through there was taken in by James.

"I don't know why James made the charge against me he did. He treated me very kindly, and I thought he was a gentleman. So far as I can remember I stopped at his place two nights. I was in Fresno about three weeks. The reason I left was because I could get no work here, and did not wish to impose any longer on James' good nature.

"How I got to Texas? Why, I beat my way there. I went to Los Angeles county and worked about four days for a man at Rivera. His nickname was Dutch Jake, and he has a small orange grove and some walnut trees. After that I worked on beating my way and using the money I got at Rivera for food. At Terah, in Texas, I met a friend, who made me acquainted with the conductor of the train, who passed me part of the way. I got some work from my uncle, who is the sheriff of Callahan county, and later visited an aunt in Comanche; it is in this place Childers arrested me."

Jones' memory is poor as to dates. He says he has not had time to recollect where he was at different times and does not as yet know where he spent the night on which Good was murdered. He denied James' statement that he had taken away the latter's pistol, and also denied the telegraphic report from Texas that he had killed one or two men there. He said he could prove this was false and that he had never been in any trouble.

Asked whether he knew anything damaging about James, Jones answered that he did not. The prisoner would not impress a casual observer as being a "bad man." He answered the various questions slowly but without hesitation. It is stated that Childers has collected considerable information concerning Jones' career in Texas, and has become acquainted with other circumstances bearing on the Good murder which strengthens the case against Jones.

THE NABOBS

At the Barton Opera House, Tuesday, April 25th.

After an absence of several years, Mr. John Henshaw and Miss Ten Broeck again made their bow before a Nashville audience at the Vendome last night in their musical extravaganza, "The Nabobs." Handsome, graceful John Henshaw is as funny as ever, and his singing and inimitable dancing are strong features. Miss Ten Broeck is an able and efficient assistant in the fun-making.

"The Nabobs" does not possess such a thing as a plot, but this little deficiency is lost sight of in the general clashing of humor, singing and dancing which pervades the whole. The dialogue is full of wit, and it is handled very artistically by the different people. The costumes worn by the ladies were very pretty, and their singing was greatly enjoyed. The Blamle sisters, both of whom are very pretty, have excellent voices and are graceful and clever dancers. They won several deserved encores.

"The Nabobs" will be repeated tonight, at the matinee tomorrow and tomorrow night, the latter performance closing the engagement.—The Nashville Banner.

OLIVER DOUD BYRON.

On the evening of April 26th Oliver Doud Byron, supported by Stockwell's Company of players, will appear at the Barton opera house for one evening in a new drama, which is something novel to the stage, entitled, "Ups and Downs of Life." Mr. Byron will be remembered by all theater goers as giving a very pleasing and entertaining performance. The new drama of "Ups and Downs of Life" relates a pretty story which is both interesting and entertaining. Mr. Byron will be supported by Miss Ethel Brandon, the leading lady of Stockwell's theater, San Francisco, including that of Henry E. Jewett, George Osbourne and others. Taking all in all the presentation will be an interesting one, and will positively give satisfaction, as has heretofore been done by Mr. Stockwell's company.

THE BAND BALL.

A Very Pleasant Evening Spent in Armory Hall.

The Park band and orchestra entertained many of its friends last night with a calico ball at Armory hall. There were eighteen numbers on the dancing card, and the music was played by an exceptionally strong orchestra, Professor Reitz leading, and good natured Mrs. Souther at the piano.

The band did not make a strange out of the gate receipts, and will not have any surplus after the expenses of the ball shall have been defrayed. This is regretable, for in the warm and langorous May people will be looking forward to a renewal of those delightful concerts in court house park, which made that one of the most popular resorts. The band proposes to give one free concert in the park in the beginning of May, and then if the citizens exhibit a little more alacrity in getting their hands into their pockets than they did last year the concerts will be a feature of the park during the entire summer.

EVA PATTERSON'S PARTY

SHE GREETED HER OLD PLAYMATES LAST EVENING.

There Were Ice Cream, Oranges, Cake, Music, Fun and Good Appetites.

Miss Eva Patterson, the oldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. I. H. Patterson, gave a social party last night to her young friends at the residence of her parents on the north corner of Inyo and K streets. Miss Eva returned recently from San Francisco where she had been attending school.

The young ladies and gentlemen enjoyed the occasion immensely. There was no limit to the supply of oranges and cake and ice cream, nor was there any limit to the appetites or the absorbing and digestive capacity of the guests. They were strictly in it.

During the pauses between bites there was music. Mrs. J. Herman and Miss Josie Fahey contributed piano solos and Miss Agnes Fahey sang a song very sweetly indeed.

Then there were games and more ice cream and oranges and cake. Among those present were Misses Georgia Taylay, Ruby Olney, Agnes Fahey, Olive Smith, Sadie Healy, Blanche Pierce, Mae Pierce, Josie Fahey, Edna Patterson, Winnie Hinckle, Daisy Hinckle, Elsie Smith, Nannie Manning; Messrs. Glenn Duesenbury, Frank Wyatt, Albert L. Munger, Clyde Olney, Bert Vogel, Paul Austin, Eugene Emerson and others.

SHERIFF SCOTT'S RETURN.

How It Was the Train Robbers Escaped.

Sheriff Scott returned yesterday from Visalia, where he went in pursuit of Sontag and Evans. The Sheriff and Detective Thacker went as far as Monson, accompanied by Deputy Rapely, Constable Irwin of Sanger and Deputy Smiley. At Monson the party separated, Scott and Thacker going to Exeter and thence to Visalia. The others made for the mountains on horseback. At Visalia Thacker sent another posse in pursuit.

Sheriff Scott states that Sheriff Kay should not be blamed for the escape of the robbers, as his plan for their capture was perfect. Had not the deputies stationed on the county road left the position assigned them, the robbers would have been either killed or captured. Evans and Sontag are in the mountains again, and probably beyond the reach of the officers. It is believed that they intended to stop another train.

The funeral of Gustavus Olsen will take place this afternoon at 2 o'clock from the family residence in Scandinavian colony.

AN OPEN LETTER

TO THE NEWLY INSTALLED TRUSTEES.

Suggestions About Conducting Municipal Affairs From a Non-partisan Standpoint.

To the President and members of the board of trustees of the city of Fresno:

Gentlemen—You have been called into official position by the voice of the people for other than to subserve partisan purposes. The people of Fresno city have had a surfeit of politics in municipal affairs, and while it may be not in good taste at this time to refer to the many acts of your late predecessors extremely distasteful to the citizens of Fresno, the people will closely scrutinize your actions and compare them with the officers you have succeeded.

You are now clothed with powers which, if employed judiciously and honestly, will enable you to make lasting and honorable records for yourselves, and confer upon this municipality blessings that will redound to every inhabitant thereof and to the honor of each of you.

This parental preface emanates from no desire to pose as the grandfather of Fresno—you being the city fathers—but from a sincere hope that you may thus be directed to take immediate steps toward the enactment of much needed municipal legislation in general, and to the question of lighting this city with gas by the city, and under its exclusive ownership and control in particular.

The genuine reformer is never balked or dismayed by lack of precedent. He invariably acts upon the great principle of truth embodied in the homely words of Davy Crockett, "Be sure you're right and then go ahead."

But, happily, the question of public ownership of gas works and all the attendant service is no new and untried experiment. It has been settled beyond the question of a doubt in many cities of the United States as well as in some of the large cities of the old world, that lighting cities and kindred service, such as water supply, street car service, etc., can be obtained at a far less cost per capita and much more satisfactory to the public, by municipal ownership than by private control.

It being the intention to discuss this question from time to time in a series of letters, enough has probably been said at the present time for the purposes desired.

CITIZEN.

A Liberal Musician.

Speaking of Carleton Curtis, the piano tuner who died recently in Fresno, the Hanford Sentinel says: "Mr. Curtis had one peculiar trait, whenever he came to Hanford, which was to place stamps on all the letters held for post at the postoffice and send them on to their destination. Many a time has the field for postage list been cleared up by him at the Hanford office."

He Indorses the Keeley Cure.

P. D. Armour of Chicago has sent at least one hundred of his employes to the Keeley institutes. One of his clerks arrived at his office, showing evidences of the previous night's carousal. Mr. Armour remonstrated. The clerk, for a time, abstained from all intoxicating drinks, but broke his word, and Mr. Armour finally discharged him. He rapidly drifted down the grade and pawned everything so that he could buy whisky. Mr. Armour met the man afterward—a tramp in appearance. Mr. Armour fitted him out with new clothes and gave him a check for $150, payable to the order of the Keeley Company, and enough money to pay his fare to Dwight. "Stay there four weeks, and if you need more money draw on me. When you come back, if you think you are cured, I will give you your old position; if you think you are not cured I don't want to see you." The man was cured. That incident caused Mr. Armour to have great faith in the efficacy of the Keeley treatment, and whenever he finds one of his employes drinking more than is good for him, he pays his expenses to some institute. Hence the common saying in the parker's office: "Don't let the old man smell your breath or he'll ship you to Dwight."—Chicago Tribune.

Interpreting the Scriptures.

"There is a queer old preacher down in my country," said a native born Marylander to a party of friends in the Manhattan club one evening last week. The man had just returned from a visit to his old home after a long absence and was amusing the company with anecdotes.

"He is about seventy years old," continued the speaker, "and he has had little or no education and is utterly incapable of preaching a sermon. He believes every word, letter and punctuation mark in the Bible is inspired, and his method of teaching his flock is to read from the Scripture and expound and explain his reading to the best of his ability.

"Of course the good old man quite frequently runs up against some passage most difficult to interpret. His method of extricating himself, as I have reason to know, is unique. I was listening to his exposition of Solomon and all his glory the other Sunday and wondered how he was going to do justice to the great king in the matter of his thousand odd wives. All of a sudden he came upon the passage, which he read through slowly. Then he paused, mopped his brow and said:

"'Brethren, we have come across a difficult passage. Let us, however, not shirk our duty. We must look the difficulty firmly in the face and pass on to the next verse.' And he promptly proceeded to do so, to the evident satisfaction of his flock."—New York Herald.

Boarding House Amenities.

They were talking at the boarding house table about Smith, the lawyer, who was not present.

"Smith," said the autocrat at the head of the table, and who is himself a lawyer, "Smith is a very bright fellow, but he has this drawback: He rates himself about 60 per cent higher than anybody else does."

"Yes," said the newspaper man meditatively as he reached over and took the two brown biscuits that the teacher had her eyes on, "yes, but that is such a common failing of lawyers that I never take any account of it."

And then the other boarders who never dare to indulge in such amenities laughed wildly, while the lawyer said he couldn't see why it was that a slur on his profession was always so amusing to the common herd.—Exchange.

Danger From Adhesive Plasters.

The Lancet gives an account of a fatal case of blood poisoning in which the infection was traced to a bunion plaster. One can readily see how the common court plaster or any adhesive plaster might be the cause of infecting a fresh wound. They are made to a great extent of animal refuse and beyond that may be infected in the pocket or by being carelessly left in a place where they are liable to contamination.

Browning's Motor.

Mrs. Cresso relates that, conversing with the Post Browning, she remarked that no accident had happened to her gas motor, and when she left the house the place was in darkness.

"I should not be surprised if the same thing occurred to me," answered Browning, "for my critics tell me there is something wrong with my meter."

Every Dose Effective

A Shocking Organization.

The Liars' club is all that its name implies. It is composed largely of wicked fishermen whose improbable stories have given a bad name to honest, truth telling worshipers at the shrine of old Izaak Walton who would not tell a lie about the number of fish they caught for the world. The biggest liar is chosen president, and several gentlemen of prominence in our community have held the office.—New York Times.

Common Hypocrisy.
